

BRADLEY T. HEIM

Indiana University
O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs

Professional Experience

Indiana University, O'Neill School of Public and Environmental Affairs.

Executive Associate Dean, July 2019 – Present.

Chief operating officer of the O'Neill School on the campus of IU Bloomington, comprising over 90 full-time faculty, 130 adjunct instructors, and 85 full-time staff, as well as 2500 undergraduate and graduate students. Responsible for oversight of academic affairs for five undergraduate, six Masters, and two Ph.D. programs, as well as the school's finance, human resources, information technology, and facilities operations.

Key Accomplishments:

- 1. Clarified the school's financial situation, improved financial reporting, and reformed faculty involvement in budget process. Undertook numerous actions (adjustment of supplements, reduction of hospitality expenses, scrutinizing of adjunct hiring and overloads, encouraging the hiring of students on research accounts) to balance operating budget. Scrutinized use of foundation accounts, and repurposed usage of foundation funds for student recruitment.*
- 2. Identified potential areas for program growth and implemented changes. Oversaw approval of new Masters of International Affairs degree, appointed new program co-director, and oversaw launch of degree. Oversaw approval and implementation of new Masters of Public Affairs core curriculum, and creation of off-ramp from Ph.D. in Public Affairs to the MPA. Acquired Indiana Commission on Higher Education approval for online delivery of Masters degrees. Oversaw the improvement of delivery of online offerings, including the creation of an O'Neill Canvas template and meetings to discuss online best practices.*
- 3. Led the school's COVID-19 response, including adjusting the course schedule and modalities given COVID-related restrictions, preparing facilities and IT for hybrid operations, redeploying staff to address changes in workloads and school needs, and communicating operating updates to stakeholders.*

4. Formulated and implemented several new processes for increased efficiency and compliance, including student hiring, summer payment, course buy-outs, faculty annual reviews, adjunct appointments and payments.
5. Oversaw improvement of facilities, including the upgrading of technology in two classrooms and a commons area for hybrid classes and events.
6. Negotiated hiring packages and MOUs with faculty, agreements with various on-campus entities, and international agreements.
7. Organized events to increase impact of school's research and expertise, and to build community among faculty, staff and students.

Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs, December 2018 - June 2019.

Responsible for oversight of promotion and tenure cases, annual and third year reviews, sabbatical leaves, and faculty searches.

Professor, May 2016-Present.

Associate Professor (with tenure), April 2013 – April 2016.

Associate Professor, August 2010 - April 2013.

IUPUI Center for Health Economics Research.

Faculty Research Fellow, October 2011 - Present.

U.S. Department of the Treasury, Office of Tax Analysis
